FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

Dispatches the other day carried the announcement of the release after serving sentence, of a reporter from one of the eastern jails, and his intention to go to Washington and work in behalf of a bill which will protect newspapermen in their refusal to give information as to the source of their news.

It seems this enterprising young fellow published a story that hurt the corns of some jurist. There was no charge that the facts, as published, were not correct, but the court ruled that he must betray a confidential communication, which he properly refused to do. As a result he was adjudged guilty of contempt and slammed behind the bars.

The Fourth Estate has its code of ethics, in which it strictly adheres, and the cardinal point of which is that under no circumstances shall the source of information be divulged. It is to the credit of the fraternity that it has strictly abided by this "rule of honor" through the years.

Where and how a paper gets its news need concern no one. The vital thing is that it shall be correct. If not, the onus falls on the paper and it can be punished for damage in a civil suit or the editors can be arrested.

Shortage Is Laid To Poor Bookkeeping

Former Police Judge A. G. Thompson and Auditor A. H. Huggard, of Vallejo, will be asked to attend the meeting of the Council of El Cerrito next Monday night to discuss a shortage of $623.50 found by Huggard in the accounts of Judge Thompson.

In examining the audit of the police judge's books from May 1930 to September 1935 in an informal meeting after the regular session of the council Monday night it was found there was a shortage of $623.50.

The audit also showed that 700 cases were incomplete or had not been disposed of and $3473.10 in uncollected fines.

In commenting on the audit, Huggard said he did not think that Thompson could throw any light on the shortage as most of the accounting was done by his assistant.

Huggard also said it was very hard to make an accurate check on the accounts because of the poor system used in the office.

Doctors Offices Are Damaged In Sunday Fire

Fire which started in the store room of Abbott Emergency hospital at 912 Macdonald avenue Sunday night and threatened to envelop the entire building in flames before it was checked by firemen damaged the hospital and adjoining offices to the extent of $1880.

Firemen were hampered by fumes from burning X-ray films and worked for about an hour before the flames were extinguished.

The fire was discovered at about 9:00 p. m. by Mrs. Elsie Walloff, a nurse employed by Dr. U. S. Abbott, who smelled smoke and found the corridors filled with smoke and fumes. She called the fire department and fled through a rear window to the roof where she was found by firemen.

It is believed spontaneous combustion of oil soaked rags started the fire.

Heat caused more damage than the flames, breaking windows and blistering paint in offices of Dr. Abbott, Dr. L. A. Hedges, Dr. Allen Morrow and Dr. J. Edwin Fanning. The ground floor store, occupied by the J. C. Penney company was damaged by water which flooded the building.

Go Slow Is Caution On Ordinance

On the advice of City Attorney Tom Carlson last evening, the council decided to make haste slowly in adopting a license ordinance for the city that would regulate outside dealers. As a result the matter went over for two weeks.

Carlson told the council that he had been making a thorough study of similar ordinances in this section of the state, and there were many things to be considered. "We want the ordinance to stand the assault that will be made on it in the courts," said Carlson. "Cities have the right to charge fees for the regulation of business, but they must be reasonable and not discriminatory."

Charles Heineman of the Bakers' Association, and George F. Black of the Grocers' Association, concurred with Carlson in his statement.

Noted Attorney Will Talk On Townsend Plan

Gomer Smith, city attorney for Oklahoma City, Okla., and vice-president of the National Townsend organization, will address a mass meeting of Townsendites at the Oakland Civic auditorium, February 13th, it was announced at a meeting of the local unit last night at 707 Macdonald avenue. Smith is a speaker of note and it is expected that a large number of local members will attend. The meeting will begin at 8:30 p. m. although doors will open at 7:30. He will also speak in the San Francisco Civic auditorium, February 16.

Mrs. Viola Klemm presided at last night's meeting in the absence of President George Black. Plans were made for an old-time dance to be held Saturday, February 15 at which time a beautiful silk quilt will be given as a prize. The quilt will be on display at the Home Laundry office.

JUNIOR CLUB MEETS—Approximately 50 enthusiastic young members of the Junior Townsend Club gathered at a special held at the Fox hall room last night. Plans to obtain a speaker for next week's meeting were made. Miss Lucille Schultz presided.

Refreshments were served.

BUS HEARING POSTPONED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—UP—The State Railroad Commission postponed until March 31 hearing on applications of four motor coach companies to operate lines across the Golden Gate bridge between San Francisco and Marin county.

Boy Scouts Rule City For A Day

The government of the City of Richmond was in the hands of the Boy Scouts yesterday. They had a swell time, putting in the day with the heads of the different departments, and learning all of the workings of a municipality.

It was a great experience for the lads, and they wound up the day by taking over the council meeting and conducting business. Everything was handled like old pros, showing that the boys had received thorough training for their work.

Over 500 Scouts were represented by the boys, and they came from Troops 3, 5, 6, 9, 10, 12, 13, 15, 17, 18 and 42.

MAYOR PRAISES LADS

Mayor W. W. Scott before turning the meeting over to the Scouts said he was proud to have them present. "Possibly in a few years," said Scott, "some of these boys will be taking over places. This organization is one of the most deserving and outstanding in the United States."

Farley Will Face Trial In The South

MARTINEZ, Feb. 10.—James Farley, 21-year-old Los Angeles youth, who admitted a $2,180 burglary at the James Greenway home in El Cerrito following his arrest in Los Angeles on a highway robbery charge, is scheduled to go to trial February 18 on three counts of highway robbery. Sheriff John A. Miller announced today.

Miller checked up on the case last Thursday when he was in Los Angeles, awaiting results of telegrams in the McCord case.

Farley, former inmate of San Quentin, has admitted many burglaries, including two in Burlingame, one in Redwood City, one in San Francisco, four in Berkeley, seven in Piedmont, one in El Cerrito, one in Kensington, two attempts in Oakland and a long string of unidentified cases, the sheriff said.

Last week the youth was brought to this county and then taken to San Francisco where a man who assertedly received stolen goods from him was arrested. A coast and watch from the Greenway job were recovered.

The sheriff also said Miss Evelyn Davis, who allegedly was with Farley on the last highway robbery job, is being held in jail. Joseph Matlin, alleged driver of the car, was jailed in Los Angeles last Thursday and now awaits trial, Miller said.

Juror's Sickness Halts Lamson Trial

SAN JOSE, Feb. 10.—UP—Prosecution attorneys revealed tonight they will present a "surprise" witness in C. H. Stone, former member of the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation, when David A. Lamson's fourth trial proceedings resume Thursday morning.

The trial was recessed today when a juror, W. A. Riggs, Los Gatos orchardist contracted influenza and was ordered to bed by Dr. J. I. Beattie.

Hunter Arrested By Game Wardens

Jack Nicoli, 6015 Center avenue, will face trial in Judge C. A. Odell's court today on a charge of shooting meadow larks. Nicoli was arrested yesterday afternoon by Game Wardens Robert S. Bash and H. M. Worcester of Berkeley.

Nicoli posted bail of $100 pending his appearance.

Trial Is Set For February 25th In Surprise Appearance

MARTINEZ, Feb. 10.—In an unexpected appearance in court late this afternoon, Mrs. W. McCord, indicted ex-social service department director, entered a plea of not guilty to the five charges in the indictment returned against her last March by the William Lewis grand jury.

Judge A. F. Bray, before whom Mrs. McCord appeared, accompanied by her attorney, Ralph Wight, set the date of her trial for Tuesday, February 25th.

News of the arraignment was not known and in consequence, only the interested parties and a couple of newspapermen watched the proceedings, which were very brief.

Aside from entering the not guilty plea, the only thing that transpired was the admission by Mrs. McCord that the name under which she was indicted was her true name.

MARTINEZ, Feb. 10.—The trial of Ruth McCord—now ended with her incarceration in the county jail—is a saga of sorrow.

But life in its darkest hour has some compensations after all. Mrs. McCord came back to the place where she once held a position of prominence to find that she was not entirely friendless.

Four attorneys, believing in her innocence, and knowing that she is without funds, have volunteered to look after her legal defense without compensation. None of these offers has yet been accepted, but a decision, it is said, will be reached tomorrow morning and made public. Her plans as to securing bail or anything in connection with the case are indefinite, and so is the time of her arraignment.

W. J. Chrisman Seeks Balm From The City

W. J. Chrisman of 1186 Glen avenue, Berkeley wants $5,000 damages from the City of Richmond for injuries he alleges he sustained last November on Richmond avenue.

A verified claim was presented to the council at its meeting last evening, and referred to City Attorney Tom Carlson and City Manager J. A. McVurrie.

In the claim it is set forth that the claimant was riding along Richmond avenue on his motor bike when he struck a gravel pile and received forehead lacerations, wounds on the legs and ankles, suffered the loss of one tooth and incurred hospital and doctor's bills.

It is asserted that it was carelessness on the part of the city officials to leave the gravel pile unguarded. On the other hand, city officials, it is understood, maintain that the gravel pile was in the center of the parking on the avenue, and that for Chrisman to have run into it, he must have run over the six-inch concrete curb.

England's Coasts Are Assailed By Terrific Storm

LONDON, Tuesday, Feb. 11.—UP—Seven persons were known dead and scores injured as the most violent gale of the winter swept Great Britain Monday night and early today.

Coast Guardmen reported an unprecedented number of large and small vessels were in distress in mountainous seas off the southern, western and eastern coasts.

Lifboats were rushed to their assistance, but a pelting rain made visibility almost impossible.

The wind's velocity reportedly reached 100 miles an hour in some areas. Long-time residents described the storm as the "wildest weather ever seen."

LAKE FROZEN

TUSCUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 10.—UP—The great artificial lake of the Ozarks was frozen over here today for the first time since it was formed. Residents at Brumley, halted by snowdrifts, took to skates to go eight miles to work.

Gas Station To Replace Old Hotel

A. Kaselle, owner of the Civic Center Tire and Battery service, asked the City Council last evening for a permit for a super-service station at the northwest corner of Twenty-second and Macdonald avenue.

Kaselle stated in his application that it was his intention to remove the present structure on the property, erect another building for his tire shop and supply store, and also install a super-service station.

The request was referred to the city planning commission for one week. The property in question is the old Bay View hotel property, which has a frontage of 75 feet on Macdonald avenue, and runs back on Twenty-second street 112 feet.

Kaselle will start work on the improvement as soon as the petition is acted upon by the planning commission.

At the same time, on the recommendation of the planning commission, a permit was granted Fred J. LaBelle for a service station at the northeast corner of Eighth and Nevin.

Fire Protection For Vessel In Slough Wanted

Several routine matters of business were transacted by the city council at its meeting last evening. The Polarine Fisheries Company, asked fire protection for its vessel that is moored in the slough on Eighth street.

M. K. Noel and Joe Vall were granted a soft drink permit for 1530 Macdonald avenue.

Barfield Motors company will conduct a used car yard on Macdonald avenue between Shaw's service station and the Civic Center garage. The permit was granted last evening.

A street light was ordered installed at the corner of Second and Bissell.

Police Judge C. A. Odell's report showed fines and forfeitures for January amounting to $644. One hundred and ninety-four cases were handled in which bail was forfeited in 115.

Chief of Police L. E. Jones reported that in January property valued at $864.54 was reported stolen, and $746.85 worth was recovered.

Girl Falls 20 Stories To Death

SEATTLE, Feb. 10.—UP—Dorothy Hathaway, pretty 22 year old stenographer, today fell 240 feet to her death from the 20th story of the Smith tower.

Her crushed body was found on the roof of a third-story wing beside an alley.

Deputy coroners said the stenographer's fall may have been accidental and that she may have slipped out of the tiled floor and plunged out the window. No witnesses to the plunge were found.

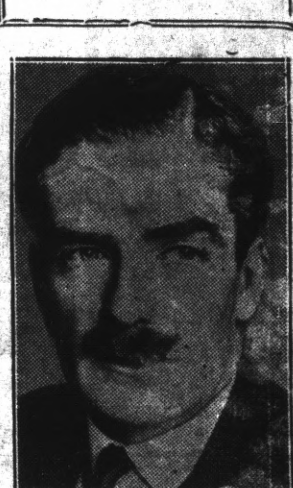

Miss Hathaway, employed by a law firm, was known to have complained of choking and dizzy spells.

Lions To Enjoy Fine Program

Talking movies, showing the progress made in modern automobiles will be the entertainment feature of the Lions Club meeting today. The film will be supplied by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

A. J. Nyström of the Richmond Home Laundry will officiate as chairman, and accordingly, to report on everything "in the bag." A feature of the occasion will be saxophone contributions by Frelson C. Bivins, well known local musical artist.

Minister

ANTHONY EDEN, British representative at the League of Nations in Geneva, appointed Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, to succeed Sir Samuel Hoare, who resigned after his peace plan was rejected. Mr. Eden, long active in foreign service, is one of Britain's strongest advocates for checking Italy in Ethiopia.

Punch Drunk Is The Excuse Of Burglar

MARTINEZ, Feb. 10.—John Gordon, 28, Richmond house burglar, today was sentenced to Bolson prison by Superior Judge A. F. Bray on a charge of second degree burglary after a guilty plea.

Gordon, also known as Jack Ruel, Jack La Var and Jack Pierce, pleaded guilty to a prior conviction, as well as to the burglary charge. The offense is punishable by a term of from 1 to 15 years.

When questioned by Judge Bray, Gordon was asked the conventional question relative to whether his mental condition was good.

"I don't know," he replied. "Anybody who has been in San Quentin like I have, and then gets into trouble again—there must be something wrong with me."

Gordon was formerly a pugilist and he was asked whether he was "punch drunk" to which he responded, "I guess so."

Petty Thefts Are Reported To Police

Two petty thefts were reported to police yesterday in which a bicycle and a radiator ornament were stolen.

Rodney Bards, 581 Third street, reported that his radiator ornament and motorometer were stolen from his car between 9:00 p. m. and 1:00 a. m. Saturday. The thief who took the motorometer, valued at $12, also siphoned 12 gallons of gasoline from Bards's machine.

George Carter, 642 Forty-second street, reported the theft of his bicycle which he left with a flat tire at Sixteenth street and Nevin avenue Saturday night. The bicycle, which is described as having a blue and white frame, was worth $10.

Antioch Hard Hit By Flu Epidemic

ANTIOCH, Feb. 10.—UP—A spreading epidemic of influenza today had struck approximately one-eighth of the population of this Contra Costa county city as hospitals and sanitariums reported their accommodations were crowded to overflowing.

County health authorities said it was the most widespread epidemic since 1918.

About 500 residents of the town are ill, with 120 children absent from school. A slight increase in the number of the new cases was reported over the weekend.

FOOD, FUEL SHORTAGES ARE FACED

By UNITED PRESS
The blizzard-stricken Midwest contemplated a rising mercury with little hope Monday as it watched shrinking food and coal supplies, read of a mounting death toll and heard forecasts of renewed cold.

DEATH TOLL 270
During 17 out of 21 days of sub-zero blasts, gales and drifting snows more than 270 persons were estimated to have died because of the unprecedented weather.

MILK FAMINE
Snow-blocked highways and railroad lines added Michigan to the list of states where a milk famine grew increasingly serious. Wisconsin and Illinois already had been hard hit.

Rescues and rescue attempts that failed were recounted as far east as the New England coast. Men were marooned in Midwest farm houses, on a houseboat in the Ohio river, on ice floes in Lake Michigan.

The coal shortage was acute, particularly in Iowa. Coal dealers explained to frantic housewives that deliveries could not be assured, husbands conserved precious lumps.

Overage In The Accounts Of F. Prosser

Whether the Council of El Cerrito will decide to go to the expense of an audit of former City Clerk Fred J. Prosser's accounts will be decided at the meeting of the Council next Monday night.

The general audit of the city books by A. H. Huggard, accountant, showed an overage of between $250 and $300 paid to the treasury by the clerk.

Apparently the only shortage that could occur in Prosser's accounts would be collections of personal property taxes on automobiles. Audit of those records would have to be made at Martinez and Sacramento at cost of about $2000.

Councilman Peter Hansen and J. R. Beck expressed the opinion that it would be a waste of taxpayers' money to spend $2000 to take a chance on collecting at the most about $250.

Councilman W. F. Huber expressed the opinion that the taxpayers might claim collusion if the audit is not ordered, regardless of the cost to the city.

Auto Stealing Charges Denied

MARTINEZ, Feb. 10.—Not guilty pleas were filed today to ward theft charges by three Crockett youths who appeared before Superior Judge A. F. Bray, February 13 was set as the date of trial.

John Meskowiak, 19, James Reardon, 18, and Nelson Kierpatrick, 18, were arrested by Constable Manuel Fortado at Crockett two weeks ago. The constable claimed they were riding in a stolen automobile which belonged to Ben Zuppen of Crockett.

The three are represented by attorney Gordon Hamilton of Martinez, who was named by the court to represent them.

WENT TOO FAR

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 10.—UP—Homer Bibb, 13, added to his WPA earnings by robberies and burglaries. Several neighbors knew of his illegal activities but it wasn't until Bibb stole a neighbor's wife that they reported to police. Bibb confessed 56 crimes. The wife returned home.

Harold MacQuarrie, president of the Pacific Archery Association, demonstrated his skill with bow and arrow to students of Richmond high school yesterday morning. MacQuarrie preceded his demonstration with a brief talk on archery and included many of his own experiences hunting big game with bow and arrow.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant
Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.
But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors. It is the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.
This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.
Try using Listerine every two or three days. You'll see how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. It will sweeten your breath. Listerine Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Don't offend others - Check halitosis with LISTERINE

Millions prefer it to mayonnaise - costs less!

Miracle Whip is different - delicious! The time-honored ingredients of mayonnaise and old-fashioned boiled dressing are combined in a new, skilful way. Given the long, thorough beating that French chefs use for ideal flavor and smoothness - in the Miracle Whip - that's the reason it's so delicious with Kraft.

FOOD, FUEL SHORTAGES ARE FACED

In gaping coal bins, janitors kept apartments heated barely within legal limits of temperature.

TRAINS LATE
Trains rumbled into terminals as much as 12 hours late. Schedules were a source of hopeless confusion to travelers. Bus lines, rerouted trips and cancelled others. Many airlines operated normally.

Food supplies, except for milk, were adequate in most cases although below normal. In Michigan, Kalazamoo was receiving only five percent of its normal milk supply, and a ration basis was forced on consumers. Grand Rapids was without milk for Tuesday, due to clogged highways to dairy centers. A large Detroit dairy, with but 50 percent of normal on hand, relied on a surplus to maintain deliveries.

Coal was rationed in half ton lots at Allegany. Eight dead were counted over the weekend, a total of 26 for the current storm.

Chicago milk deliveries were maintained on a normal basis to families, but store orders were reduced. Acute coal shortages were reported in Henry, Bureau and Stark counties of Illinois. Available coal was dumped in a community pile at Toulon and passed out a bushel at a time.

FOOD, FUEL RATIONED
The worst blizzard in 40 years found fuel, milk and other food being rationed in Iowa. With railways unable to move such freight since Friday, many shivered or went hungry as available supplies were sent to hospitals and families with children or illages.

Wisconsin, milked for the Midwest, was itself without available milk. Sleds brought it to

Three Building Permits Issued

Mrs. A. H. Glens received permission to erect a one-story frame house on Tehama avenue between San Benito street and San Pablo avenue from City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley yesterday. The new structure will be erected by W. J. Kraus at a cost of $1800.

Other permits issued were to E. J. Williams to remodel a flat at 176 Ninth street at a cost of $250; Thelma Cox, who will remodel a one-story cottage and office building at 3326 Cutting boulevard at a cost of $100.

A one-story addition will be built at 628 South Fifteenth street by Mrs. A. H. Darham at a cost of $150.

Mooney Hearing Is Postponed Until Thursday

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—UP—Thomas J. Mooney's resumed habeas corpus hearing was continued until Thursday today when Deputy District Attorney William F. Cleary became too ill to continue examination of the State's second witness, James Brennan, one-time assistant district attorney in San Francisco.

In the midst of an effort to show the "state of the prosecution's mind" in determining that Mooney and Warren K. Billings were the men wanted for the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing, Cleary announced he felt "the symptoms of influenza coming on" and was hurried to his home.

Cleary questioned Brennan in an effort to show that certain evidence uncovered by authorities in the investigation prior to Mooney's arrest was of a character to convince them he was the guilty one.

Retail Clerks Receive Charter Name Officers

At the first meeting of Retail Clerks' Union, at which their charter was installed temporary officers were chosen. Louis Kattino was elected president of the organization last night at Brotherhood hall. Other officers elected were Tommy Talmieri, vice-president and Viola Cox, secretary and treasurer.

Jack Faulkner, president of the Pottery Club and delegate to the Central Labor Council was the installing officer. It was reported that the Quality Market was the first store with 100 percent union help.

At the next meeting, February 18, H. W. Lisle, secretary and business agent of the Retail Clerks of Oakland, will be the principal speaker and W. G. Desmet, San Francisco, international president of the organization is also expected to be present. The meeting will be open to clerks of all retail establishments.

Council Asked For Tax Refund

Tax Research, Inc., last evening asked the Council to refund $246.44 that had been paid as taxes on the Keuffer property on Sixth street, formerly occupied by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company.

It seems that under the Supreme Court decision, cities were not permitted to collect taxes on property occupied by a public utility, as all of their taxes were paid direct to the state.

Under the new law, restoring public utility property to the counties and cities for assessment, that rule does no longer apply.

Hoover Fears Inflation May Hurt Stanford

SAN JOSE, Feb. 10.—UP—Former President Hoover today, in the San Jose Standard-Centinel, testified that he believed a possible menace of currency inflation threatened the country's colleges, such as Stanford University, in their investments in bonds, real estate loans and other similar securities.

Hoover was called as a surprise witness at a hearing before Judge William James of a petition by the permission to invest part of the Stanford University endowment fund in bonds and other securities.

The action, filed January 22, stated the trustees wish to invest trust funds of the university in stocks of "well-managed corporations," because it is no longer possible to obtain adequate interest from real estate loans or investments in bonds and similar securities.

Air Service Of Nation Said To Be In Jeopardy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—UP.—A Senate commerce subcommittee investigating air safety today heard charges that the Bureau of Air Commerce had been forced to economize to such an extent that it endangered the nation's air service.

Paul Dolan, vice president of Inter-Continental corporation told committee members that the Bureau of Air Commerce's own personnel at Newark airport, which handles the largest volume of air commerce in the country, failed to comply with its own regulations.

He said that the commerce department bureau of air commerce failed to analyze reports of mechanical defects which led to accidents, and followed the adage, "when in doubt, blame an accident on the weather." He said 80 percent of the accidents today were blamed on weather or personnel.

COPWHEIE, Madrid, Feb. 10.—UP.—Juan Ignacio Pombó, who flew an ocean, wrecked an airplane, and lost his appendix last summer in a four-months "dash" to his childhood sweetheart, Saturday stole her from a convent where she had been hidden and married her secretly.

The mother, Senora Concha Rivero, was surprised today when she learned through the United Press that her 19 year old daughter, Maria Elena, and Pombó were married in a civil ceremony. The news leaked out when Pombó invited a friend to attend a religious ceremony tomorrow.

Not suspecting that the girl's mother was ignorant of the marriage Pombó's friend gave the secret away. Senora Rivero apparently decided it useless to attempt to stop the church wedding, since the civil marriage had been performed. But she said she would attend tomorrow's ceremony.

What Bank of America credit means to the buyer of an automobile

Hundreds of automobile buyers will tell you that Bank of America credit is more than just low-cost credit. It is true that you save money by buying your car through this bank. But the more important point is this:

When you borrow from Bank of America to purchase an automobile . . . and when you make the monthly payments to the bank . . . you establish your personal financial responsibility. You build for yourself a valuable credit relationship with a bank which can serve your credit needs in many other ways through any one of 432 branches throughout California.

Once you have established your credit with Bank of America, it is easier to borrow for other purposes.

The Bank of America Automobile Financing Plan provides insurance which protects you, placed in any insurance company you may select, or through your own broker or agent. Monthly payments range from $25 up, depending upon the amount borrowed and the number of monthly payments.

A beautifully decorated birthday cake featured the banquet.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS PLAN RALLY SOON

The Young Democrats of Contra Costa county plan to hold a public rally in Richmond soon, according to an announcement yesterday by F. L. Olson, secretary of the newly organized Young Democratic Club of Berkeley Park. The place and date of the meeting are to be announced through the press within a few days.

The Young Democrats held a meeting Thursday evening at the home of F. L. Olson, 418 Berkeley Park Boulevard, Berkeley Park, this week with 25 members present.

Application will be made immediately to the State executive board of Young Democratic Clubs for a charter for the local organization a few weeks.

ITEMS OF LOCAL AND SOCIAL INTEREST

Ed Ross of the White Star Market is wearing a very happy expression this week, the occasion being the birth Saturday evening of a fine 7-12 pound son in his home. Mother and son are doing well.

Harding Parent Teacher Association will hold its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, February 12, at 3:45 at the Little House, where the program of coming events will be discussed and planned. Mrs. Eslen will be there and will tell about the camp, so don't miss it.

Our Washington's Birthday celebration will be held on Friday, February 21 at the Lincoln school auditorium, at 7:30. A prize will be awarded to the Scout making the most appropriate costume, entirely alone, with the least expense. Parents of Scouts are invited to come and watch the dancing.

Mrs. Dorothy Mannering of Napa, who has been quite ill at the home of her mother Mrs. Della Eldridge, home of F. L. Olson, 418 Berkeley Park Boulevard, Berkeley Park, this week.

Mrs. Ida Richter sailed aboard the Malolo, Saturday for Honolulu where she will visit her parents for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Darr have moved from the Rust Building to their recently purchased home at 1369 Santa Clara street. The Gork Realty Company handled the sale.

Mrs. Tobiasson who has been very ill of influenza for several days is reported to be recovering satisfactorily at her home.

GIRL SCOUTS ACTIVITIES

Plans for an entirely new program at our day camp, this summer have been completed by the camp committee, chairman, Mr. Robert Easton and will soon be presented to the troops. Regular camp uniforms will be worn as usual, and Scouts are advised to begin saving for their own as soon as possible, so that all will be ready for the opening day.

Patrol leaders are reminded to come to the All-City Patrol Leaders' meeting on Wednesday, February 12, at 3:45 at the Little House, where the program of coming events will be discussed and planned. Mrs. Eslen will be there and will tell about the camp, so don't miss it.

Two resolutions were passed by the Council in regards to the exchange of property in Terrace Drive Park with C. H. Blackburn. One resolution accepted a strip of land from Anna Morris next to the park and the other granted a deed to C. H. Blackburn for a strip of the park property.

Remember that February is International Month and on the 22 both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, our founders have their birthday. All Girl Scouts here and millions of other Girl Scouts and Guides are links in a chain which extends around the world. Read the American Girl for February, and find out how Scouts in other countries carry out the program. Who can name all the countries that have Girl Scouts? Anyone who can, call the Little House.

Be sure to see the new poster over our Girl Scout bookshelf in the Junior Department of the library. It was made by a student at Roosevelt high under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Klein, our art examiner, and we are grateful to them both for their co-operation.

BI-MONTHLY MEETINGS ARE TO CONTINUE

Councilman W. F. Huber's effort to have the Council meet every week instead of twice a month fell by the wayside when one seconded his motion to make a change at the meeting held Monday night.

At present Huber stated a great deal of the discussion of the city business took place in the clerk's office before the regular meeting and by meeting every week the discussion would take place in the Council chambers where the public could hear what was going on.

Councilman J. R. Beck said that just because the city has a little money in the treasury at the present time was no reason why the Council should meet every week and draw salaries as it would probably be short in the Fall. Beck said if there was any pressing business the Council could always hold adjourned meetings.

EXPENSES APPRECIATION

A letter from Sheriff John A. Miller expressing his appreciation for help of Chief of Police R. R. Cheek in arresting James Farley, Greenway home burglar, and stating that it was due to Cheek's vigilance that Farley was apprehended, was read and placed on file.

WAKE STREET LIGHTS

A petition submitted to the council for installation of street lights at Fairmont and Pomona avenues and at Santa Fe and Lynn streets was read and referred to Street Commissioner J. R. Beck.

OFFER LAID OVER

The accepting of Havenscourt Road from Terrace Drive to Arlington avenue as a public street from George Friend was laid over for one week until Street Commissioner W. F. Huber can get a deed and description of the road from Friend.

NO SECOND GIVEN

As none of the members of the council gave their approval no action was taken on the suggestion of Street Commissioner W. F. Huber that the city build a coffee dam in the gulch south of Fairmont at Pomona avenue to stop the slides of the bank from being washed away by the rains.

Health Commissioner Peter Larsen stated that it would cause a lake which would be dangerous for children and in the summer would leave stagnant water which would cause a mosquito nuisance.

PROPERTY EXCHANGED

Two resolutions were passed by the Council in regards to the exchange of property in Terrace Drive Park with C. H. Blackburn. One resolution accepted a strip of land from Anna Morris next to the park and the other granted a deed to C. H. Blackburn for a strip of the park property.

RAIN IMPIDES WORK

Work on the improvement of Cutting boulevard and grading streets in the city was progressing slowly on account of the rainy weather, Street Commissioner W. F. Huber reported.

Huber said about 140 street signs had been painted and erected under the W. P. A. project.

ADVANCES AUTHORIZED

On a motion made by Mayor Hans M. Nissen, seconded by Councilman J. R. Beck the council ordered that all advances to be made on the maintenance of main highways be made from the vehicle fund.

When the money is received from the gas tax allocation the Council will reimburse the vehicle fund.

SIGN OFFER LAID OVER

Offer of the Brown Neon Sign company to erect a stop and go neon sign in the middle of the street at Fairmont and San Pablo at a cost of $125 was laid over for one week.

The sign is to hang in the middle of the intersection and will have 8-inch letters.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(School Children Should Eat Breakfast)
Question: Mrs. William D. inquires: "Is it all right to let my high school boy or girl go to school without any breakfast? My children refuse to eat and I worry over their being hungry in the middle of the morning. It seems to me that they need something to eat before school."

Answer: School children often omit breakfast because they are too late to eat breakfast and get up late in the morning. The children are a little earlier in the morning. Sometimes they are hungry because of eating too much at the evening meal of the night before. Anyone who is not hungry for breakfast should skip breakfast until hunger returns. If there is any time of the day when one may be expected to be hungry, it is in the morning after the fast of the night. In fact, this is the way the human body is naturally organized, as it means the meal for breakfast. The food which normally occurs during the sleeping hours. Occasionally, I find that children are uninterested in breakfast because not enough effort is spent in making this meal attractive, when there is too great a tendency to serve the same food over and over again. Try to get a little more variety in the morning meal and see if the sight of new and delicious dishes does not tempt the children to sit down and eat.

(Attacks of Numbness)
Question: Francesca C. writes: "Three different times I have attacks of numbness during the night. Just get numb all over and try to call for help but can't. What is the reason?"
Answer: I suggest that you obtain an examination during which the cause of the attacks of numbness will be determined. There are several different causes capable of inducing numbness and I have no way of knowing which cause is present without knowing more about your case.

MISSIONARIES HELD CAPTIVE BY BANDITS

LONDON, Tuesday, Feb. 10.—UP.—Seven American missionaries and a contract chauffeur at Williams, in the province of Camero, the London News-Chronicle's correspondent at Djibouti, French Somaliland reported today.

The Americans reportedly are members of the Sudan Interior Mission. Their names were given as the Rev. Harold Street, Mrs. Street and their four children and Miss Bray, a nurse. The British missionary was said to be the Rev. John Trevelin, a Canadian.

Street and Trevelin reportedly are bound by chains in a stockade but serving as a prison. Chenchu, capital of the Gamo district, southern lakes region of Ethiopia. The women and children were said to be under strong guard at a mission station at Shams, 100 miles south of Chenchu.

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH
By Dr. Frank Jacob
Author of "The Fast Cure for Epilepsy"

All questions regarding Health and Diet will be answered. Large, detailed, well illustrated booklet sent free. Letters sent not enclosed. Write to Dr. Frank Jacob, 1000 Broadway, New York City.

TREATMENT OF EPILEPSY
As I explained in yesterday's article, the majority of cases of epilepsy are caused by a definite toxic condition. The seizure will tend to disappear as soon as a way is found to keep the system clean and healthy. If the patient is to secure permanent relief, it is necessary to return the large intestine to a condition of normal function. As a general rule it is necessary to correct pockets or kinks in the intestine where stagnation is encouraged. Certainly, when the intestine is helped to do its work in a normal manner, the attack is at once relieved and tend to become more mild. The most successful treatment is that which depends upon keeping the large intestine clean and afterward developing a healthy condition of this organ so that no further trouble develops.

I find that the best plan is to start the treatment with the fast and marked results are usually obtained during the fasting regimen. Sometimes the seizures will occur more often than usual at the start of the fast and this may be regarded as a good sign, that the toxins are being stirred up by the systemic house-cleaning. Often after several days of fasting attacks, they will stop entirely and a more suitable diet. When the fast is continued until it is followed by a recovery is likely to be slower and occasional attacks may be expected, which will be farther and farther apart, until they cease altogether. The dietetic management of the case is most important and permanent improvement can not be expected unless the diet is correct.

The most probable reason that fasting reduces the attacks is that during the fast the elimination of waste proceeds at a rapid rate than when the patient is eating and there is less food to ferment and putrefy in the intestine so that the patient may become comparatively free from the seizures for some time. I do not advise that the patient at home attempt to fast over any great length of time without being under the supervision of a doctor experienced in the application of the fasting method of treatment. However, it is all right for the patient to use the most rapid and good results are generally obtained. Two or three enemas should be used every day during the fast and at least one each day for some time after being on the fasting regimen. Racial dilution often appears to be of benefit and the patient may apply this treatment at home.

The diet to be followed after the fast should provide an abundance of both cooked and raw non-starchy vegetables, together with a reasonable amount of meat. Starches and sugars are to be omitted for some time and after being returned to the diet, are to be used in moderation.

Manipulative treatment of the intestine if of marked value, if correctly given and aids in restoring the colon to normal functioning. In every case it is advisable to take x-ray pictures before and after the treatment, inasmuch as a prolapsed, knicked, or pinched intestine requires special manipulative treatments. In many cases, the use of the Morse Wave or the sinusoidal current is of great value.

In addition to the fast, it is to secure enough exercise. I find that the attacks are lessened when sufficient muscular exercise is taken each day to induce a healthy tired feeling. Exercises which strengthen the abdominal muscles are beneficial; the same is true of walking and good results are generally obtained. Two or three enemas should be used every day during the fast and at least one each day for some time after being on the fasting regimen. Racial dilution often appears to be of benefit and the patient may apply this treatment at home.

I will be glad to send any one who desires it, additional information on Epilepsy. A special 2-page article is available which will answer many of the more common questions on the subject. To obtain the material on Epilepsy, simply write to me in care of the newspaper and enclose ten cents and one large, self-addressed envelope. If you wish to write to me regarding any particular question that is troubling you, I will do my best to send you an answer, in all cases where this is possible without making an examination.

Warts Seem to Attack the Healthy Child Faster Than the Sickly One

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

I HAVE no doubt that thousands of boys today, between the ages of sixteen and twenty would like to know what would remove their warts without pain. I say boys because they are much more common on the hands of boys than girls. I do not know why, unless it is that generally boys are less careful of their hands and play in water and dirt more than girls.

A wart is a hard Papilloma or "verruca." Now these are the names to use; any one can have them. Warts, but few can boast "verruca." So don't allow your friends to call them warts.

They are horny growths that appear mostly on the backs of the hands and fingers and forearms. Sometimes on the palms. I have seen a large one on the inside of the ball of both thumbs, and when I fell forward, I always scraped them off with resulting soreness and bleeding. So I usually had my hands and handkerchiefs covered with blood.

They are an excessive growth of the skin layer just under the horny surface. At first they are smooth and only a little darker than the skin, but soon they become yellow, brown, or black. As the growth increases they extend above the surrounding skin an eighth of an inch and more, the top splits, and often forms a cauliflower-like growth, commonly called a seed wart. They often occur in groups and the entire hand may be covered.

Can Attack Face

Sometimes they come on the face and on the mucous membrane of the lips and on the scalp. What causes them? We do not know. They are probably due to irritation, but very often they are transferred from one to another through contact, and also from one person to another.

Some experimenters feel they have found a germ present in them. They have no effect on the health and do not cause pain unless irritated or infected.

The base is full of small blood vessels which bleed freely when torn; this allows bacteria to develop. In elderly people warts on the mouth or nose may be more serious. They should be removed by the knife or electric cautery and not irritated, because they sometimes are the seat of the development of a skin cancer.

As a small boy I was told if I played with toads, frogs and snakes I would get warts. Well, I played with toads and had warts, plenty of them. I was also told that if I rubbed my hands with powwow over them and take them off that way, I intended to go to see her one Saturday morning, but I was sixteen, met a couple of girl friends and didn't go.

Several weeks afterward, my warts commenced to disappear and one powwow woman told a convert. So far as we know the general condition of the system has nothing to do with their formation.

Usually Disappear Themselves

They do occur at the age of general glandular development and it may be that some of the glands of internal secretion are responsible. Boys and girls in perfect physical health are a little more susceptible than those of general children. Usually warts gradually disappear without any treatment. Internal treatment by medicine is seldom indicated.

Sometimes, when they persist and increase in numbers, five drops of tincture of Thuja twice a day or epsom salts enough to move the bowels freely and the treatment continued seems to stop their development.

If a child is below par, cod liver oil and calcium may help. Most treatment is for the local condition. The simplest and easiest method is to snip them off with scissors and cauterize the base, but that hurts.

A small amount of glacial acetic acid applied every day to the top of the wart with a small brush or stick will dry them up. Care must be taken not to touch the skin. If they need to be softened, a solution of one part each of salicylic acid and lactic acid to six parts of flexible collodion every day for five or six days will cause the top to drop off.

Treatment by puncturing the wart with a high frequency electric needle or general treatment with X-ray is the most scientific method of ridding.

"Queen Victoria" Is Hailed on Stage

By TALBOT LAKE

THE "Queen Victoria" pictured is none other than our own Helen Hayes, in one of the most wonderful make-ups ever to be seen in the theater.

In "Victoria Regina" she plays the role of Britain's famous queen, entirely changing her characteristic appearance. Notice the puffy cheeks, Miss Hayes accomplishes this miracle by inserting a slice of apple in either side of her mouth.

The nose, we must admit, belongs to Helen, but there the resemblance ends, for the actual star has youth, beauty and vivacity. She is one of those persons who gives the impression of being very quiet, but she really can't be; for one thing, she is married to Charles MacArthur, the playwright, and admits he has never bored her. His friends, too, are quick to make the assertion he has never bored them either.

There was the time Helen became a mother during the run of "Coquette." The play was withdrawn for the time being, and the cast had to go without salary. The actors brought suit, but Jed Harris, the producer, declared the baby was "an act of God" and that he wasn't responsible.

Thenceforward Broadway insisted on dubbing the MacArthur heir the "act of God baby."

Helen herself has run the gamut of ingenuities of the last few years. She was born in Washington, D. C., where her father was a clerk in the Patent Office. Aided by her mother, who had theatrical leanings, she reached the stage in 1909, after a schooling in parochial schools.

During the early period she naturally kept up her schooling, but even when she was only seventeen Helen was touring in "Pollyanna."

The other hat is also of blossom blue felt, with navy blue grosgrain ribbon trimming.

Thinner Hair On Men Tells Neglect Story

By JACQUELINE HUNT

WHAT are men most apt to consider a beauty problem? Hair. Honest, now, don't all of the men you know view thinning locks with alarm? Even young men are apt to find their hair something of a problem. Perhaps it is too dry, or too oily, or perhaps there is dandruff.

Most hair problems are caused by carelessness. Men should have finer, more lustrous hair than women. They get all the breaks. Their hair is short, and it is rarely touched with beauty-destroying agents like curling irons, dyes, bleaches, or wave lotions.

The health of the hair depends on a good circulation. They should keep the scalp loose and toned by massage and the use of good hair tonics. Besides this the hair needs a vigorous brushing night and morning. The electric vibrators used in barber shops are often a great help in keeping the scalp in condition, and they are inexpensive enough to have one at home.

Too frequent wettings and dryings tend to make the hair brittle and lustreless. Men often ask how often they should shampoo their hair. It depends on their occupations—and the condition of their hair. If a man spends his days indoors or at a clean, light job, every two weeks should be sufficient, but if the hair is exposed to dust, oil, and perspiration, it should be washed oftener.

A special hot oil shampoo every ten days or two weeks is desirable. For the hot oil treatment use plain olive oil. Pour some of the oil into a saucer and warm it. In the meantime give the scalp a vigorous massage to loosen every particle of dead skin and dandruff and to stimulate the circulation. Fluff the hair between the fingers to remove dust, then dip the fingers into the warm oil and massage it into the scalp and hair.

Writing a small turkish towel out of very hot water and wrap around the head. Leave it there until it cools and then shampoo with melted castile or tar soap. Be sure the hair is thoroughly clean and rinse it several times. A half cup of vinegar or special preparation added to the next to the last time water will leave the hair soft and manageable.

If the hair is straight and inclined to be dry, apply a little brilliantine or an oily finishing lotion and comb into place immediately.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "My legs and ankles become dry and chapped in the winter time, so I have to wear sheer stockings. I have tried massaging them with cold cream and I have also used vanishing cream before going out, but neither helps."

Just before retiring, massage a warmed mixture of equal parts toilet lanoline, cocoa butter and olive oil into the skin and slip on an old pair of hose or pajamas to protect the bed and leave the softening preparation on overnight. Apply a soothing hand lotion before you go out during the day. Incidentally, it might help to wear light woolen hose when you spend much time out of doors.

QUESTION: "I am trying to make my mother take more interest in her appearance, and I think she should start with her hair. She has worn the same style for years, but it makes her look years older than she is. She has agreed to have it cut if you advise it. Won't you please lend a helping hand?"—J. D.

I agree with you. If your mother has nice features it is a shame to detract from them with unlovely hair. She should have her hair cut, shaped to bring out the nice lines of her head and perhaps be given a good permanent that will make it lie in smooth soft waves. Lifting massage movements over throat, jawline and cheeks will help improve the muscle tone and give her smooth, youthful contours.

There's Glycerine in It

Probably more staples of daily household use contain glycerine than any other one ingredient. It's on Millady's dressing-table in countless cosmetics and beauty aids because of its valuable protective properties. It's in the bathroom medicine chest in any number of preparations, lotions and germicides, as a solvent and preservative.

That Black Line

An important detail in the preparation of shrimp, whether using the fresh or canned variety is to remove the black line that runs the length of the shrimp.

Movable Necklines, Scarfs, Are Mode at the Resorts

By IRENE VAIL

New York — In sports clothes collections and others intended for resort wear one finds a disposition toward movable necklines, usually adjusted to the high line and often plus a scarf. I find, though, that dresses designed for evening are inclined to go the limit of good taste as far as the décolletage goes, not all, but a sufficient number to be taken as significant. It is still true there are two distinct schools of thought on the subject of shoulders and necklines. As many dresses are seen with concealed shoulders as with exposed ones. The dropped shoulder line is part of the Spanish picture which we should be prepared for, but on the other hand, frills, pleated capelets, and covered shoulders generally are still the vogue, especially when sheer materials are chosen.

This is the first season evening tailors have swept Paris. It is safe to say that not a woman with pretensions to fashion but has at least one in her wardrobe. The great uniform is a black one, velvet, heavy crepe, or less often, satin, with different blouses; and the backless, halter-necked affair like a pajama top, of some bright colored crepe or lame. Handknit evening suits are also enjoying a vogue.

Dinner suits in tailored types made with floor-length skirts were accented at recent fashion shows. This fashion has been prominent in Paris this winter and was often expressed in velvet or metal cloth or combination of both. Bengaline, mouseline, lace, chiffon or pique are still the favorite materials for these dinner ensembles, but it also has its adherents. One of them expresses the opinion that suits of this sort should be confined to daytime wear, that they have no place in the wardrobe of a woman who puts good taste first.

Modes and Manners

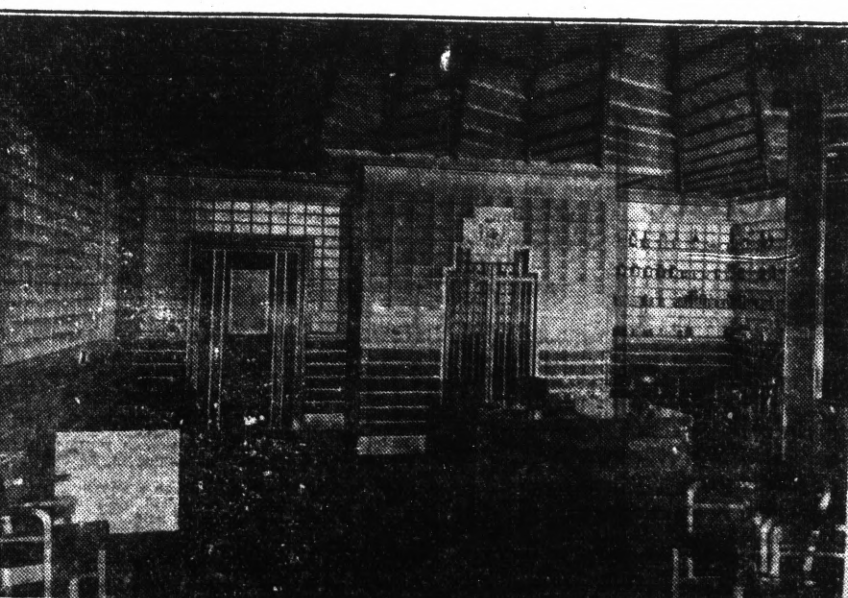

QUESTION: "My daughter is going to be married. One of her bridesmaids wants to give her a shower at my home for the reason that she herself lives where transportation is inconvenient. The girls who are to be invited know the reason for her wanting to give it at my home. Would it be proper?"—Anxious Mary.

ANSWER: Ordinarily a shower is given by a friend at her home or at the home of another friend. It is considered in bad taste for any member of the bride's immediate family to act as hostess. You are not to be a hostess, but merely have been asked to lend your home for the occasion. This will be quite in order, particularly as all the girls are acquainted with the reason for holding the shower in your home.

QUESTION: "When a husband and wife stop at a hotel, how is the register signed—h. j. d. m.?"

ANSWER: The husband registers for both. The correct form is "Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Berkeley, Calif."

NEW USE FOR GLASS

The reception room in the new executive quarters of a glass company reveals an interesting application of a new glass block. The ceiling is sound-proof and fire-resistant with glass "wool." The glass block idea suggests itself for use in the building of a private home, too.

Hot Muffins Right Touch For Any Meal

By JUDITH WILSON

HOT rolls, muffins, biscuits, waffles, or home-baked cakes add a touch of elegance to any meal, no matter how simple it may be. Otherwise, serve these home-baked breads and cakes to insure the success of informal parties, as well as daily meals.

Even the inexperienced cook can make mouth-melting goodies by following these recipes.

Cherry Muffins

Combine 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons combination type baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons sugar. Combine 1 cup milk, 1 egg, well-beaten and 2 tablespoons melted butter, add the dry mixture stirring only enough to moisten thoroughly and then fold in 1 cup canned cherries, pitted and drained. Bake in greased muffin pans in a moderate oven, 20 to 25 minutes. Serve these at your Washington's birthday party, or let them take the place of dessert at supper or luncheon.

Fried Potatoes
Brussels Sprouts in Cream Sauce
Steamed Chocolate Pudding with Marshmallow-Mint Sauce
Coffee

Mix 2 cups flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt then cut in 4 tablespoons butter and mix with 1/2 cup grated American cheese. Add about 1/2 cup milk, mix quickly and turn onto a floured board. Pat to 1/2 inch thickness and cut into small rounds. Bake in a hot oven 10 to 12 minutes.

Quick Hot Rolls

Dissolve 1 cake compressed yeast in 2 1/2 cups lukewarm, scalded milk. Cream 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/2 cup lard, add 2 teaspoons salt and the yeast-milk mixture. Add 2 1/2 cups flour and beat until the mixture is smooth. Add 2 1/2 cups more flour, beat until smooth, let the dough in a warm place for about 1 hour. When double in bulk, take out by the tablespoonful and put in greased muffin tins, filling 2/3 full. Try not to release too much of the gas in handling. Let rise until again double in bulk, 30 to 35 minutes. Bake in a hot oven about 20 minutes or until golden brown. Brush with melted butter on removing from the oven. The total time for preparing and baking these light crusty rolls is about 2 hours.

Fried Scones
Mix and sift 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Cut in 4 tablespoons shortening and add about 2/3 cup milk or enough to make a soft dough. Roll out 1/2 inch thick, cut into 4-inch squares and then in triangles. Bake on a hot buttered griddle until brown on both sides. Sprinkle with sugar. Split and butter while hot. These are grand for breakfast, or an impromptu supper. Try them with marmalade or jam and scrambled eggs.

Date Cake

Pour 1 cup boiling water over 1 cup chopped dates and set aside. Sift 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda and 1/2 teaspoon salt together twice. Cream 1/3 cup shortening, and 1 cup sugar until light. Add 2 tablespoons of the water from the dates and beat until light and fluffy. Add 1 egg and beat thor-

MODERN WOMEN

Some of the Wives Are Welcoming Back Prosperity a Little Too Quickly

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

I HAVE forgotten the identity of the philosopher who said prosperity ruins more people than poverty, but there are moments when I think his bones should be honored.

Some few months ago we were hearing a great deal about the horrors of the depression especially about the things it was doing to individuals. People who had money got frightened and flew to cover. Those who had no funds simply ran in debt.

Now prosperity is coming, not a golden curls, according to our best statistical experts, and so those who have no money are trying to make noise like those who have.

The tempo of living has been speeded up again, one half of the population is panting along in the wake of the other, trying to imitate its capers and striving for Gold Coast luxuries.

It is never possible, under ordinary circumstances, to make every man the recipient of a $10 a day job and every working woman the next best thing—which might be, for comparative purposes, a $40-a-week candidate for the abundant life. I do not propose to write an economic treatise, but some women need a lecture more today than they did five years ago, when we were up to our necks in financial difficulties. At that time they were anxious to run up bills right and left, refusing to accept the truth of their man's statement that he has not regained the good old pre-depression brackets.

Today they are asking their husbands why they are not making double the amount of their depression salaries. And in many instances these women are running up bills right and left, refusing to accept the truth of their man's statement that he has not regained the good old pre-depression brackets.

Happy days are here again only when women keep one foot on the brake. Times are better admittedly, but they do not permit of wild extravagance—at least, not among working people.

Some few days ago a wife who was thrifty and sensible when everybody was talking hard times, suddenly lost all control. She bought a fur coat and a new car without telling her husband anything about it. When she broke the news he naturally hit the ceiling. His statement that he was just getting on his feet and that her action threw him into the red again, brought no sympathetic response from wife.

She said times were better and that there was no good reason why he shouldn't be earning as much as he did previously. The husband left home and published an announcement he would no longer be responsible for his wife's debts, pretty how-to-do. And all because times are better. Decidedly, times are worse for such people, and Cupid is in full flight. I might even say it's when prosperity comes in at the door that love flies out of the window.

Be fair. Consult your husbands before assuming they are making more money than they are willing to tell you about. As a rule, a man will boast in his family circle when he is earning good money, it being the nature of the male to strut in the presence of the female. I have never known a man capable of keeping a salary secret to himself. Give him time and he will talk.

Those who learned anything at all from the depression should have gathered something of thrift. Granted everybody should spend all they can consistently, at the first indication of sudden affluence in the family many women assume they are back on the primrose path and run amuck in stores. Something should be set aside in rosy times for the inevitable dark day. I dislike those who talk in the hazy accents of smug virtue, but at that it is true that in moments of prosperity we are all prone to forget the headaches that went with forced economy.

I have recently encountered several instances of exaggerated talk of sudden prosperity. Such prattle is peculiar to women's bridge clubs, where the players boast in turn and out—often exaggeratedly—of the germ travels and those who haven't prospered try to imitate those who have. Discretion might save a deal of woe just at this moment.

Short Cuts

Punch haddie is smoked haddock. It may be served boiled or steamed with a butter sauce or creamed.

As a change from serving apple sauce with baked ham, try baked glazed apples.

Preference should be given to the whole grain cereals and breads by families operating on a low budget.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sore and sick and the world seems punk, don't swallow a lot of pills, mix a glass of laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you feel better and eat breakfast and full of energy.

For then you can't do it. They only make the bowels and a false movement doesn't get you going. The candy for you goes down and settles in your liver. It should pour out two or three of these into your bowels daily.

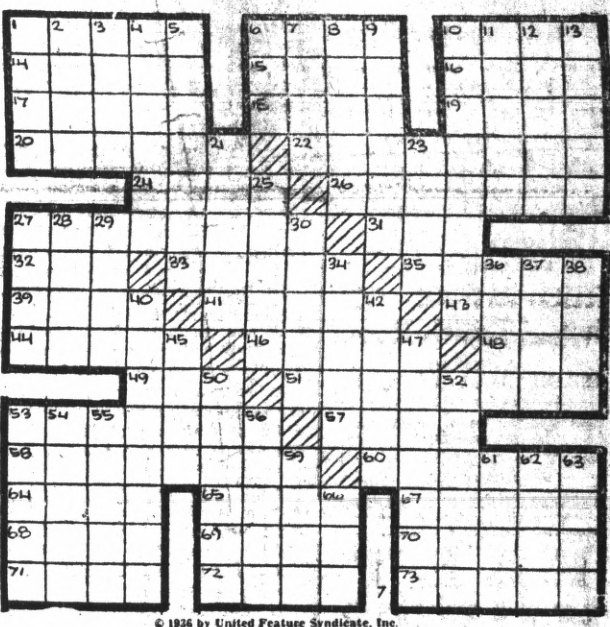

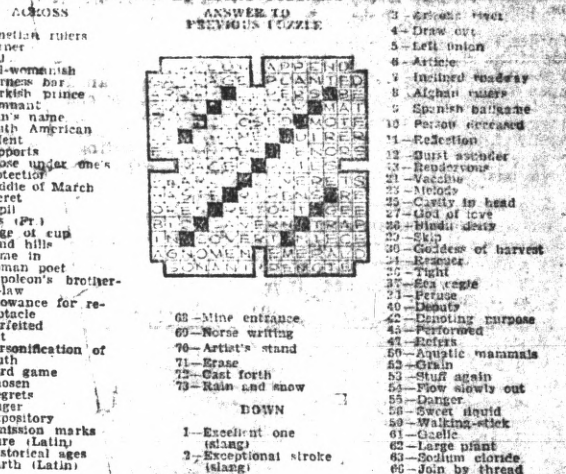

If this fails to get you going, your liver is not doing its job. You have a toxic, bad taste and your mouth is full of acids. It's a sign of liver trouble. Your liver often breaks out in pimples. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile downing and clearing your system. They contain wonderful, natural, gentle, and safe ingredients. When it comes to making the bile flow freely, you don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the Little Liver Pills on the end label. Trial Is Set For February 25th In Surprise Appearance with friends in Oakland and await the inevitable. Then fear seized her in its grip and she hastened to the depot, bought a ticket for Sacramento and boarded the train.

Seemingly small and unimportant events often shape people's lives and destinies. The conductor, chatting with two young people in the seat ahead, joked with them about going to Reno. He jokingly asked Mrs. McCord if that was her destination also, and the chance remark determined the next step of her flight.

SPASMATIC EMPLOYMENT

Arriving in the divorce capital the fugitive went to the public library and while there determined she would put as much distance between herself and Martinez as her limited funds permitted. She bought a bus ticket and arrived in Salt Lake City, practically penniless. Refuge was found in the Y. W. C. A. and then began the heart-breaking search for work in order to live. Finally she accepted employment as a nurse in the city where she would take the caring for a couple of children with scarlet fever. With their convalescence the family journeyed into the mountains of Wyoming and took her along as a companion to the little ones. Other temporary jobs were secured, but sickness exacted its physical toll and doctors' fees dissipated her meager funds.

It must therefore have been a relief to have the suspense ended—the hourly fear that arrest was near—that everyone who looked at her on the street might possibly be the dreaded enemy—an officer of the law.

SHERIFF'S STATEMENT

Details of the capture at Salt Lake City of Mrs. McCord were given in a statement issued by Sheriff John A. Miller, today, as follows:

Medicos To Hold Martinez Meeting

The Contra Costa Medical Society will hold its regular meeting tomorrow at the nurses' home in Martinez. Dr. David Wise of Pittsburg will discuss "Industrial Hygiene" and "Lead Poisoning" will be the topic for Drs. Dr. A. A. Alexander of Oakland and Dr. S. N. Well of Rodeo.

"In Los Angeles I had met remarkable co-operation from United States government officials, the police department and the district attorney. At 10 A. M. February 7th, we definitely ascertained that Mrs. McCord was working for a certain company between Oden and Salt Lake City. At 11 A. M. we were on our way, traveling 742 miles over 250 of which were through one of the worst blizzards that ever hit Utah. The thermometer dropped to 5 below zero, at 3 A. M., February 8th. We were in Salt Lake and at 4 A. M. working with the Salt Lake sheriff's office, we went to Mrs. McCord's room in the Ambassador Hotel where she was registered as Ruth Wilson. It was only a matter of minutes until she was in custody.

WAIVES EXTRADITION

"It has been my constant opinion that we would finally apprehend her out of the State. The next question was extradition. There were three sources through which extradition could block our case, and in the interim she might have a shrewd attorney file habeas corpus proceedings, get out, and leave us holding the sack. I determined not to let the case go and so took along my attorney, Clare Horner of Richmond, at my own expense, so as to be prepared for any legal questions that might arise. It was a lucky thing that I did so, as he convinced her to waive extradition, save herself further worry, save Contra Costa county plenty of costs for further delay, and come back home to face the music. She signed, we packed, secured the loan of Mrs. Minnie Harris, matron of the Salt Lake sheriff's office and started back immediately, stopping at Las Vegas Saturday night and completing the balance of the 1100 miles yesterday, a total of 2200 miles for the trip. We had to go back via the south as all roads through Reno were closed.

"I questioned her carefully and am convinced of the following:

HELPED BY NONE

"She left Martinez on the evening of March 6th, 1935, frightened, tired and sick at heart. She did not get aid, financial or otherwise, from anyone, and did not let a soul know what she intended to do. She went to Sacramento, then bought another ticket taking the same train again on to Reno, arriving in a snowstorm. She took off her hat and glasses and bought a bus ticket for Salt Lake. She laid over in the Reno library for several hours and then took the bus to Salt Lake. She has been in Utah and Wyoming ever since, and I am now convinced that she did not reach West Newton, Massachusetts, as reported by Chief of Police Michael T. Hughes on March 19, 1935, which statement he retracted on March 30, 1935 by stating that she had visited there several years previous, and he had been in error in reporting her there in 1935. It was this statement that I had steadfastly refused to believe, until now I am convinced he was correct.

"I found Mrs. McCord has put in ten months of constant worry, having had two severe illnesses and she is a shadow of herself.

JOB IS FINISHED

"As long as she is in my custody I am responsible for her physical welfare. It was my duty to capture her upon the basis of the warrants I held. This accomplished, I have refilled the oath of my office and my part of the job is done."

WELD FREE HAND

Among the many duties of a newspaper is to expose crime and corruption, and in order to effectively carry out this one of its many missions and obligations to its readers, it, therefore, must retain the right to protect its confidential informants. Revelation of the source of much of the important news carried in the columns of daily papers today would result in the source or supply being carried off.

There is a law now pending before Congress, providing that Federal courts a newspaperman shall not be required, under penalty of contempt, to reveal a news source. The measure should be enacted into law not alone for the benefit of the papers, but what is more important, for the protection of the people whose liberties in a large measure depend upon a free and untrammeled press.

Several states now have such laws, notably New Jersey, Maryland, Alabama and California. This 1935 session of our law-making body throw this mantle of protection around scribes, thus giving us a free hand to try and gather and

Jockey Killed Three Hurt At Orleans Track

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 10.—UP—One jockey was killed and three injured, one critically, when four horses piled up at the turn into the home stretch during the fifth race at the Fair Grounds today.

Homer Spears, 17, a native of Cleveland, O., died in a hospital of a fractured skull. He was an apprentice rider and won his first race last week.

Francis Polk, 18, Bloomfield, N. J., suffered a probable skull fracture and was in a serious condition. Chuck Parke and J. Donoho were given emergency treatment at the track for less serious injuries.

The pileup occurred when Enola, Spears' mount, struck the hind legs of Fish Tush, the horse ahead, and sprawled to the ground. Insomnia, Portam and Smooth piled onto the fallen Enola, throwing their jockeys into the scramble.

Polk was riding Smooth; Parke was astride Insomnia and Donoho was up on Portam.

Insomnia had to be destroyed.

A VICTORY

While on the subject of the freedom of the press, it is of interest to note that the Supreme Court yesterday negated the attempt of the Long machine in Louisiana to tax the advertising revenues of papers. We do not as a class, ask or want any special privileges, but we do insist and shall fight for our constitutional guarantee that there shall be no abridgment of our freedom.

COURT UPHOLDS THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—A Louisiana law passed at the behest of the late Senator Huey P. Long, taxing newspaper and other advertising, was killed by the Supreme Court today as an unconstitutional restraint upon the freedom of the press.

"This seems to be a device to limit a free press," declared Justice Sutherland in the Court's unanimous decision. "Suppression or abridgement of a free press can not be viewed except with concern."

He said an "informed and enlightened opinion" has been at stake throughout history and that restraints on newspapers plainly were prohibited by the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

Thirteen newspapers challenging the legislation claimed it violated "freedom of the press" and was intended to punish them for opposing the Long political forces.
